North 24 Parganas, West Bengal,

Estd. 1997

An affiliated college of West Bengal State University

Accredited at grade 'B' by NAAC

Vol. 1, July 2017

The name of this college connotes the pluralism and diversity of Indian society. The college is named after 'Chandraketugarh', an archaeological site located near Berachampa, the history of which dates back to almost the third century B.C. during the pre- Mauryan era and after Dr. Md. Sahidullah, Bengali educationist, philologist, linguist and son of the soil. Our college is a classic example of integration and harmony, where students, teachers, office and support staff, irrespective of their religious and political beliefs, work in unison.

Principal Speaks

It gives me immense pleasure and a sense of pride to see the first issue of the newsletter of IQAC of Chandraketurgh Sahidullah Smriti Mahavidyalaya. It is a coordinated course of action of our teachers, students and non teaching staff. It is very promising to note that large number of teachers have contributed to quality teaching by their innovative practices and published quality research papers in national and international conferences and journals. I also thank my teachers and staff for performing activities other than class teaching like NSS, organising social awareness camp etc.

My sincere thanks and good wishes are due to all the members of IQAC.

Congratulations!
