CHANDRAKETUGARH SAHIDULLAH SMRITI MAHAVIDYALAY

A Short History

Debalaya (Berachampa) is an internationally famed place of archaeological interest because of 'Chandraketugarh' where the antiquities have been traced down to the post Mourya period and are still lying under the earth unexcavated. Our college was named after this glorious 'Chandraketugarh' and Dr. Sahidullah a great Philologist of Bengal and a son of this soil. It was established on the 17th May 1997 under the affiliation of the Calcutta University as a degree college.

The long cherished dream of the people within this vast stretch of rural area encircling Debalaya in the district of North 24 Parganas for establishing and institution of higher education came into existence through the collective effort of the local people and the then representatives from the Lok Sabha to the Gram Panchayat of this locality who did a lot for the establishment of this institution. They had in their mind the constraints and problems faced by the students in pursuing their studies in the nearest college which was about 20 k. m. away.

The female students in particular, belonging mostly to the minority and backward communities, had to abandon their studies just after schooling. Students of poorer sections and mostly first generation learners had to experience the same. To overcome this, people from every walk of life spontaneously came forward with their humble and generous contributions for the cause of this college.

The foundation stone of this college was laid down by the then Hon'ble Finance Minister, Govt of W.B. Prof. Ashim Dasgupta as chief guest on the occasion Prof. Satyasadhan Chakraborty Hon'ble Ex-Minister in charge of Higher Education. Govt. of W.B. was also present initially the college started functioning in the venue of Acharya Jagadish Chandra Basu Polytechnic college with three to four rooms, in the first week of August, 1997. Primarily General Degree course in Arts was introduced with the combination subjects of Bengali, Education, English, History, Philosophy and Political Science. Subsequently Honours courses in all these and other subjects have been extended affiliation by the University. The college shifted to its own building at Kaukepara on the 8th August, 2012. In the mean time, Vocational Courses at X+2 level in Home Science and Agriculture under the affiliation of the West Bengal State Council of Vocational Educational & Training have been incorporated since 2005. A museum on Chandraketugarh has also been set up within the college premises.

Location

The college is located near a four point crossing being about 23 km. from Barasat in the West and 20km. from Basirhat in the East, 10 km. from Baduria in the North and 10km.from Haroa in the south on the Baduria Road, adjacent to Taki Road. By road the distance of the college from Kolkata is about 60km.

Ambiance

With an area of 1.54 acres of land the present college building consisting of two blocks is unique because of its situation amidst the nature of a typical Bengal village with a vast expanse of lush green where the presence of every season is felt.

Although the building is still under construction, different departmental classes have been arranged. The college Central Library has been placed in the first floor of the new block.

Departments

At present there are ten UG Departments in the college, namely Bengali, English, Education, History, Philosophy, Political Science, Sociology, Economics, Arabic & Sanskrit teaching general degree courses. Honours courses are presently being run in Bengali, English, History, Philosophy, Education, Political Science, Sociology, Arabic, Sanskrit and Agriculture and Rural Development. Various Vocational Training programme, like poultry Farming, Food Processing & Preservation, and Pisciculture is being conducted in the college under the affiliation of West Bengal State Council of Vocational Education and Training at the 10+2 level.

The college campus has

- An well equipped Library.
- A state of the art Gymnasium.
- An ICT enabled block part of which is run by solar power.
- A central Server Room.
- A Medicinal Garden.
- A Rooftop Water Harvesting Project and lot of other facilities.

DR. SAHIDULLAH : PHILOLOGIST PAR EXCELLENCE

(1885-1969)

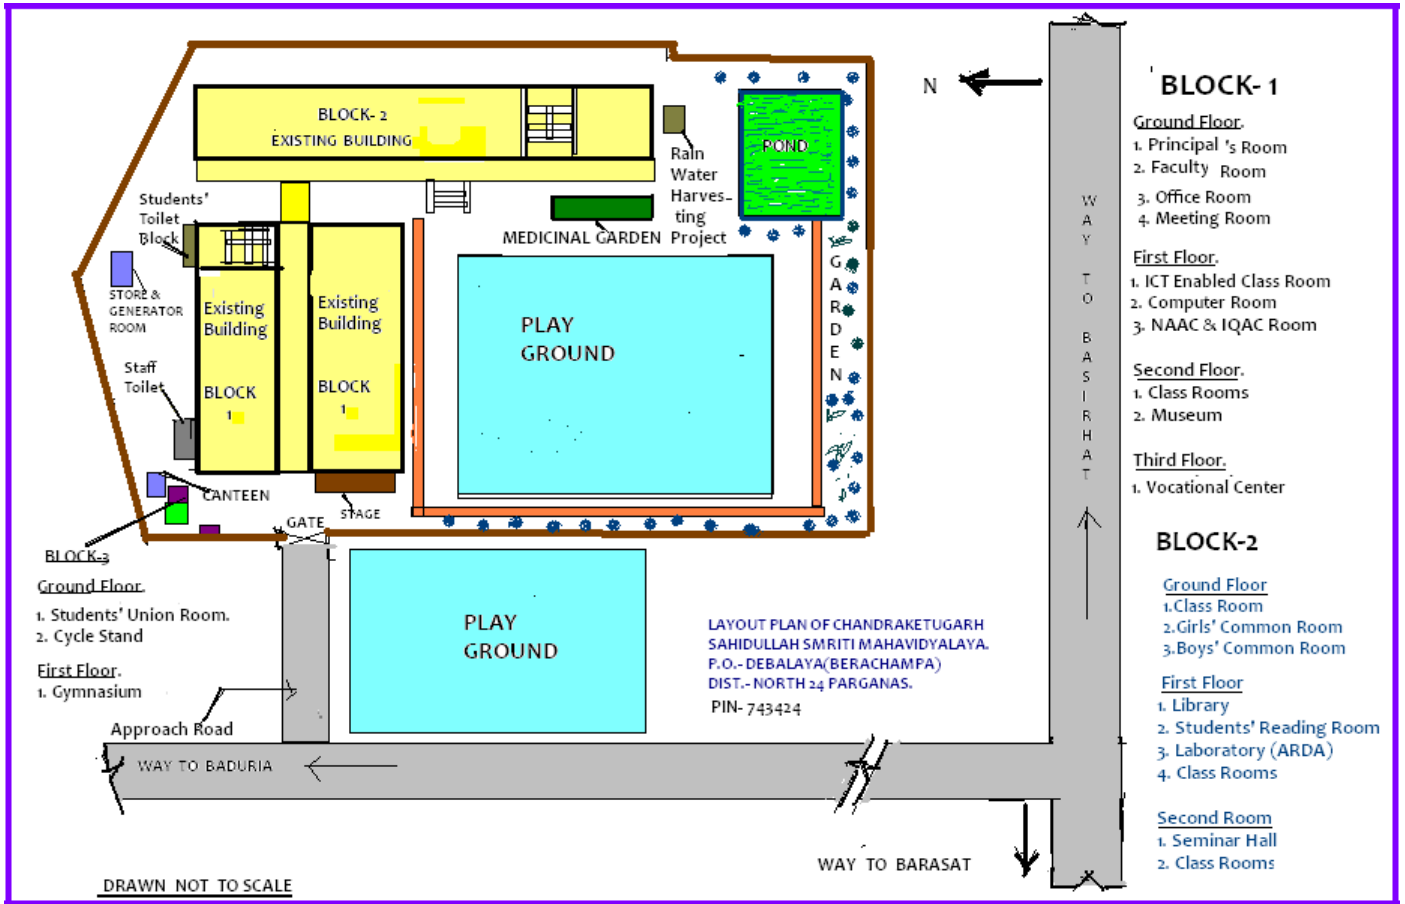

Dr. Sahidullah, the eminent philologist of Bengali was the son of this soil. He was born on the 10th July, 1885 in the village Pearah near Haroa in the district of North 24 Parganas. He was the first muslim student who passed the Sanskrit honours from the city college, Calcutta in the year 1910. He did his post graduation from the University of Calcutta as a lone candidate in comparative literature as favoured by Sir Asutosh Mukhopadhyay, the then vice -chancellor, in the year 1912. In the year 1914, after acquiring a law degree, he joined the Basirhat Court as a young lawyer. But he was much uncomfortable with this profession and naturally left the practice and decided to join the Calcutta University as a research fellow with the great poet Dinesh Chandra Sen. He left for Dacca in the year 1924 and ultimately for University of Paris in the year 1926. He was awarded Ph.D. Degree from this university for his original research on Charyapada written in French in Germany. He acquired knowledge on Vedic, Tibetan and Prakrita languages through immense research. In his life style he was very simple, open hearted and of non egoistic nature and dedicated himself for the cause of communal harmony a lot. He was a renowned personality in the field of comparative literature. Often a parallelism is drawn with Dr. Suniti Kumar Chattopadhyay for his contribution in literature. Of his books, 'History of Bengali literature', 'History of Bengali Language', 'Bengali Grammar', 'Padmavati', 'Vidyapati Satak', 'Rubayet-e-Umar Khayam', 'Dinwan-e-Hafiz', 'Buddhist Mystic Songs', 'Pearls from the holy prophet', etc. are worth mentioning. He left for his heavenly abode on the 13th July, 1969.

CHANDRAKETUGARH : THE ANCIENT PORT CITY

West Bengal can boast of a very few ancient historical location of which one of utmost importance is that of archaeological site of Chandraketugarh situated in Berachampa of North 24 Parganas. Sites of Haroa, Debalaya, Hadipur, Singherati etc. have yielded relics of ancient Bengal.

The relics can be dated from Post - Mourya to Pala period including those of the Sunga, Kanva and Kusana and Gupta periods..... Excavation has brought to light evidence to prove that Chandraketugarh was a flourishing coastal town from about 4thCent.B.C down to the post Gupta age having trade contact with foreign countries in the early period of its history....." (Chandraketugarh and its archaeological importance-I M B july 1966 K.G GOSWAMI) The objects which have been found by incomplete but applaudable attempts of Archaeological Survey of India and private owners are gold and copper coins,Ivory,bangles and necklaces, bronze and teracota female figures, various dolls, icons of Gods and Godness like Parvati, Yaksha, Yakshini and others. Various kinds of pot include Northern Black pottery of small and large plates, cup, bowl, tub, drinking cup etc. pottery cups with small spout (Unique in india), Pitcher, jug, basin, ware, pottery, Black polished pottery engraved in Brahmi letters and many others of Red ware pottery are found potter' swheel, pottery drain pipe also depict the antiquity roughly to the 3rd-4th century B.C. portion of the port city have been discovered like a temple complex named as "Khana-Mihirer Dhibi". A huge city wall and even recent excavations done by local people have yielded fertile alluvial soil from the bases of the sites.
